

TEXAS STATE VITA

KAY NEWLING: SENIOR LECTURER, Department of Sociology, Texas State University

Educational Background:

Ph.D. (ABD) Ph.D. commenced 2008. Dissertation commenced 2010 and not defended. College of Education, Texas State University – Adult, Professional and Community Education program

MA 2007 Texas State University, TX Major: Sociology
Thesis: "Is Leisure on the Level: An exploratory study of the leisure preferences of whites, blacks and Hispanics".

BSAS 2005 Texas State University, TX Major: Sociology
Thesis: "To Be or Not To Be: Experiences of Non-Heterosexual Students at a Large University".

University Experience:

Senior Lecturer Texas State University-San Marcos TX Current position - appointed 8/2007 and moved into phased retirement in 9/2023

Committee Member Texas State University, Non-Tenure Line Faculty Committee from 2009 to 2022. Appointed to represent the views of the Dept. of Sociology and wider interests of the College of Liberal Arts. Contributing member of the sub-committee that researched and developed the strategy, rationale, and policies to move the classification and promotional criteria of non-tenure line faculty into that of tenure based teaching professionals.

Relevant Professional Experience:

Director, Quantitative Tutoring Department of Sociology, Texas State University, TX
Current position - appointed 2011

Coordinator Statistics Tutoring Department of Sociology, Texas State University, TX
2007 to 2010

Graduate Assistant Department of Sociology, Texas State University, TX
2005 to 2007. Provided in-class support to professors, graded tests and written assignments, conducted one-on-one and group learning support and review sessions.

Tutor Dept. of Sociology, Texas State University. Setup and coordinated statistics and quantitative analysis laboratory. Designed learning support strategies, supervised tutors and monitored operation, effectiveness, and student satisfaction. Reported to statistics and research methods professors.

Teaching:*Courses Taught:

Introduction to Behavioral Statistics

Quantitative Data Analysis

Sociology of Sport and Leisure

Quantitative Research Methods

Qualitative Research Methods

- Taught courses at both the San Marcos and Round Rock campuses.

Courses Prepared and Curriculum Developed:

Introduction to Behavioral Statistics

Quantitative Data Analysis

Sociology of Sport and Leisure

Quantitative Research Methods

Qualitative Research Methods

Short Intersession Intro. Statistics 2024-25

Professional Organizations:

Women's Liberation Front (WoLF)

Women's Declaration International

American Sociological Association

American Association of University Women

Association for the Study of Higher Education

United States Distance Learning Association